

Aaron Slater is Honorably retired from a policing career after serving a total of 22 years in various positions including: Patrol, SWAT, FTO, Detective, Undercover Narcotics, and Lieutenant. During his tenure as a police officer he also served as the Board Director and the President of his Police Officers Association. He holds a B.S. in Organizational Leadership, a M.S. in Criminal Justice Leadership and Management, and is a graduate of the Leadership Command College at the Law Enforcement Management Institute of Texas.

After retiring from his police career he became an entrepreneur, founding and/or partnering in several successful companies. He is the owner of the police themed clothing company: ReLEntless Defender Apparel, owner of a police consulting company: ACED, LLC., an investor in the supplement company: MILLECOR, and co-owner of the media company: Ground Zero Media.

Although his career may have changed his passion for law enforcement and our country is evident. He continues to teach across the nation for Public Agency Training Council in the areas of Leadership and Law Enforcement's use of Social Media. Feeling compelled to help mold new police officers he continues to dedicate time teaching at the local police academy. He has made it a major part of his mission to continue to serve the law enforcement community by making major charitable contributions to first-responder charities and serving in capacities that his knowledge and experience can be valued. He serves as the President of Relentless Defender Foundation, a Board Member of Humanizing the Badge and works directly with over one hundred nonprofits nationwide.