Introduction:

The police officer's health and well-being is of prime importance to the officer, his family and colleagues. The program is voluntary and offers incentives for reaching goals and fitness standards.

The department's Physical Fitness Program is administered by the Training Section. A trained Law Enforcement Fitness Coordinator will be responsible for conducting fitness assessments; providing individual education and goal setting; and providing ongoing support and evaluation.

Policy:

The Sandy Springs Police Department has for some time recognized the need for an agency-wide physical fitness program. National studies of law enforcement officers have found that, as a group, police officers rate below the general public in physical fitness and have the distinction of having the highest rate of heart disease, diabetes and suicide out of 149 professions. It is therefore, the policy of this agency that all sworn/non-sworn personnel may voluntarily participate in the Physical Fitness Assessment Program. Minimum norm and other aspects of the program are set forth in this policy.

Purpose:

- The purpose of this policy is to establish reasonable and reachable norms, which will permit all personnel to meet the requirements of the Physical Fitness Assessment Program.
- While voluntary participation is encouraged for both sworn and non-sworn personnel, the scope of this policy and its goals are directed primarily to sworn police officers.

Physical Fitness Assessment Dates:

- Assessments will be conducted a minimum of two (2) times every calendar year.
- Personnel may only qualify once in the calendar year to obtain the incentive award.

Physical Fitness Standards:

• The standards to be used in this assessment program are those established by The Cooper Institute, Dallas, Texas. The Copper Institute has developed fitness programs for law enforcement and public safety since 1976. They are the industry leaders and standard.

Incentive Rewards:

As an incentive to achieve and encourage a level of fitness, the Department will reward employees with paid time off for the following achievement rating:

Employees will be allowed to participate in the Physical Fitness Assessment whenever it is conducted, but employees can only earn incentive days once every calendar year.
